FEDERAL COURT DECIDES AGAINST WALTON

December Cotton Reaches New High Mark

"Guilty" Says Jury In Cook Trial At Fort Worth

Trapp Retains Governor's Office In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 21.—The plea of Former Governor Walton for a injunction writ restraining M. E. Trapp from assuming the office of Governor, was thrown out of the Federal Court when the motion came up for rehearing.

With the case of J. C. Walton, ousted Governor, definitely out of its way, the Oklahoma legislature turned today to the purging of its membership and the consideration of anti-Klan legislation.

The defeat of the appeal of Walton ounsel late yesterday to have the record transcript of the impeachment trial certified to by Chief Justice Johnston and denial of their attempt to enter a bill of exceptions took the case definitely out of the hands of the Legislature, the prosecution indicated.

The next move of the ousted Governor, if any, against the trial procedure must be lodged in Federal courts, although it was thought improbable by House leaders today.

Consideration anti-Klan measures presented in both houses was next on the calendar in the Senate today with impeachment charges imminent against Guy Siglar, Ardmore Representative, and Charles Ruth, Supreme Court commissioner, upon allegations of trafficking in acts of clemency. Ouster charges were filed against Murray Gibbons, former speaker of the House yesterday, by a special House committee.

Firpo Declares No Complaint Against Champ

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 21.—Luis Angel Firpo, South American champion, in an interview with the United Press, denied statements attributed to him that he was given a short count in his fight with Jack Dempsey, that he had been treated unfairly by the referee and that the officials at the ring side had restrained his seconds from making a protest on a foul.

"These statements were made by Horacio Lavelle, my adviser and chief second, and I am not responsible for them," Firpo said.

He added that he had no complaint to make against Dempsey, the referee, the boxing commission or the fans.

McAdoo Forces Claim Victory

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 21.—Forces supporting the candidacy of William G. McAdoo for the presidency claimed a "convincing victory for conservative democracy," on practically complete returns from the county proposal conventions held throughout South Dakota Tuesday.

Returns from approximately three-fourths of the total vote of the State showed delegates instructed to support McAdoo had won by about two to one over delegates pledged to Henry Ford.

In the Republican proposal conventions, most of the delegates were uninstructed but scattering votes went to supporters of President Coolidge and Senator Hiram Johnson, Cal.

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—A small ray of hope in Germany's desperate food situation was seen when the government verified reports that Chancellor Stresemann had gone to Holland to negotiate food credits amounting to $50,000,000 to meet Dutch, English and American financiers for a conference.

Sentence Will Be Announced At 4:30 P.M.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 21.—The government scored a signal victory today in its fight against alleged fake oil stock promoters when a jury in a Federal Court brought in a verdict of guilty against Dr. Frederick A. Cook, S. J. Cox and associates. The case went to the jury at 6:00 p. m. Tuesday and the jury's verdict was reached this afternoon.

In his charge to the jury the Federal Judge John M. Killits declared that each of the 15 defendants must be treated separately, weighing the evidence in each case. As a result it is declared that all but one of the 16 defendants were found guilty. The exception was A. M. Delcambre who was acquitted on instructions by the Court.

Sentence will be imposed and announced by Judge Killits at 4:30 this afternoon.

The act of those found guilty was characterized by the Court as "atrocious, dishonest and obhorrant."

Cook and eleven defendants were found guilty on all counts. S. E. J. Cox on 8.

The News will post the sentence on its bulletin boards at the Pioneer News stand, corner of Commerce and Sherman immediately upon receipt of the message from the United Press.

Insurgents Bolt When Conference Considers Ford

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 21.—An insurget group in the newly formed national independent-progressive party today bolted the executive conference here during an argument on the proposed candidacy of Henry Ford.

Headed by J. A. H. Hopkins, chairman of the "Committee of 48," the insurgents held a meeting, of their own last night, refused to endorse Henry Ford as the party's candidate for the presidency and considered holding a national convention in St. Paul, May 30, 1924.

The "regulars," under the leadership of Roy M. Harrop, sponsor of the party, went ahead with the meeting, endorsed Ford for President and voted to hold a national convention in either Denver or Omaha next year.

The faction favoring Ford as the party's candidate, voted to approve the name Peoples Progressive Party.

Pinchot Outlines A Two Fold Plan For U. S. Farmers

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 21.—Gifford Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania, speaking here today before the national convention of the Farmers Union, outlined a two fold plan for bringing lasting help to the American farmer.

"To make certain that the farmer will have better markets," Pinchot said, "we must:"

"1. Cooperate.

"2. Complete the lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway."

Cooperation, Pinchot said, means more than cooperative marketing. It includes cooperative storage, cooperative buying and cooperative information.

"I have long been and am today more than ever, a convinced and enthusiastic believer in cooperation among farmers," Pinchot declared.

Discussing the waterway project, Pinchot outlined a great system of deep channels, running through the Middle-West, which, he said, would bring the world market to the farmer's silo.

"The lakes to the Gulf deep waterway was strongly endorsed by President Harding's nation wide agricultureal project, Pinchot said. "No one should object because we are asking for construction of this great deep waterway within our boundaries. The expense will bring immediate return in lower freight rates, better markets and increased prosperity."

Pinchot compared the expense and necessity of building the inland waterway to that of building the Panama Canal, asserting that the benefits of the former were far greater than those of the canal.

CONVENTION REPORT TO BE MADE HERE AT BAPTISTCHURCH

Rev. Joe Jeffers, pastor of the First Baptist church, announces that reports will be made to the congregation tonight of the convention held in Galveston last week. A full attendance of the membership is urged and visitors are invited.

The Army and Navy clash at New York will also get their share of enthusiasm. The Army's hopes are built around Smythe the wonderful field general of the sodliers who is almost a whole team by himself. Dopesters see this game as a tossup.

Galli-Curci Quits Chicago Opera.

Amelita Galli-Curci, coloratura soprano of the Chicago Opera Company, has severed her connection with that organization. While her contract will hold her there this season she will not renew it. Disagreement over the opera in which she was to make her 1923 debut caused the breach.

The special will include 7 passenger coaches and possibly an observation coach. Nobles and their ladies and Masons and their ladies are included in the party to make the trip. Local ticket stations report a heavy sale and a large crowd.

T. E. L. CLASS

The T. E. L. class of the Baptist church will have their monthly social next Tuesday night at the church instead of Thursday as announced at Sunday school. The ladies are to meet in a business session at 6:30 to be joined by their husbands at 7:30 for a social hour.

J. R. Janak and family have moved from the Gus Pierce cottage in Speed Heights, to the Northcut place, West of the old Methodist parsonage.

Census Report Shows Less Than In 1922

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—December cotton sold at 35.15 cents, and May at 35.05 cents, new highs for the season. Heavy profits taking on the market.

"Spurious" Doctors Investigated By A Connecticutt Jury

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 21.—Investigation into the medical and surgical practice in Connecticut of "doctor's" holding spurious physicians' diplomas, was resumed here today when the grand jury, called for the purpose at the request of Governor Templeton, convened for its third day.

Three witnesses have been examined and fifty-three subpoenas issued for persons believed to be familiar with the inside of a "diploma mill", the headquarters of which is said to be in St. Louis and Kansas City.

Most striking of the testimony recited before the jury yesterday was that of I. B. Cook, fellow worker of Albert C. Hodoy, who died under an anaesthetic while being operated on by Dr. George M. Sutcliffe, confessed holder of a fake diploma.

Hoody, with a crushed finger, was taken to Sutcliffe by Cook. Sutcliffe decided an amputation was necessary and after strapping Hoody to an operating table asked Cook to administer ether.

"At least three cans of ether were poured on the gauze over Hoody's face," Cook sobbed as he related his experience to the jury.

"I didn't know how much to put on. I only followed Dr. Sutcliffe's instructions."

Sutcliffe, a former St. Louis news photographer, now believed to be out of the State, was being sought today for appearance before the jury.

Sutcliffe was understood to have bought the practice of Dr. E. M. Ripley of Unionville, where the photographer "practiced" for nearly a year. Dr. Ripley signed the death certificate for burial of Hoody's body.

LITTLE HOPE FOR VERNON LAD.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 21.—Small hope was held out today for the recovery of Eldon Hutto, 8, who was seriously burned here yesterday when a pocketful of matches were ignited, setting fire to his clothes. Passersby extinguished the flames after catching the boy as he ran screaming down the street.

He had gone to a store for a can of oil and in some way, the oil spilled on his clothes, which were partially burned from the boy's body.

Man Sentenced To Die As Spy Freed From Leavenworth And Will Be Deported Immediately

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Nov. 21.—Lother Witzke, sentenced to death as a German spy during the war, was released from Federal prison here today. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by President Wilson and he was pardoned by President Coolidge. Witzke was tried by a military court at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, accused of having obtained information at a military encampment near Nogales, Ariz., regarding movements of American troops with the intention of forwarding it to Germany. Warden W. I. Biddle said Witzke had been a "good prisoner."

Representatives of the German Government met him at the prison gates and will accompany him to see that he is immediately deported, as provided in the order.

MEXIA IS AMERICA

Education week is being observed throughout the nation Tuesday was "Patriotism Day", an occasion by which American youth is to be enriched.

The schols of the United States, it is hoped due to the influence of this observance, will become more and more alert to the opportunities that are theirs to safeguard the nation, to mould boys into great citizens. A nation's grandeur is not estimated in its domain, not in its wealth, not in its population, but in the spirit and character of its people. The time to begin the development of the proper spirit and character in citizenship is about four generations back. Men and women of America today are fortunate in being able to point back to a patriotic and illustrious ancestry, and in the heritage handed down is properly safeguarded it must be through the education given to the efficient citizen in the making. The schools should be the great American institutions in this regard. In them should be taught lessons in citizenship with constant stress directed toward the creation of home pride, love for the particular community in which young Texans reside. As far as Americans living in Mexia are concerned, Mexia is them and for them is their America.

NOBLES INDIVIDUALS OF ACTION

Nobles of this section of Texas will Thursday gather at Waco for a ceremonial towards which they have been looking for many weeks. Karem Tempie bears the reputation of staging many high class entertainments and it is reported that this time a program out of the ordinary and embracing old fashioned fellowship has been planned. Mexia will be well represented at the affair. Nobles of the Mystic Shrine from all surrounding towns and communities will occupy the Mexia Shrine Club Special and the successes in Waco Thursday will be due in no small measure to the enthusiasm, to the spirit and to the liveliness of the several hundred who will go from here. Nobles Frank Bolton, Sam Werner, ring candidate Rodney Tidwell and his campaign manager H. B. Littman, as well as many others have been diligent in their duties and have exceeded all effort of their active past in making the Special from here a certain success. Indeed, fortunate is a community which is the home of such a Nobility. It has been said that men are divided into two classes, those who argue and those who act. Shrinedom, though, has only one class—those who act.

THE DREAMERS

By BEN B. HUNT

When Joseph had his dreams of old
In days when he was young,
They never left his youthful heart,
Which sorrow often wrung.

The visions touched his tender years,
Of great things he would do,
And then thru life of toil and strife
They kept his purpose true.

When Abram stood beneath the stars
And look'd into the sky,
A vision of the promised land
Came gently floating by;

And all the world has been amazed
And stirr'd with purpose grand
Because young Abram had his dream
Of that great promised land.

Let all enraptured souls dream on,
Their hearts with bliss be fill'd,
For dreams are like a tender voice,
That never should be still'd.

O men may toil and men may pray
And men may work from day to day,
But never can their work withstand
The storms and strife on ev'ry hand
Unless within their hearts we find
A vision great has been enshrined.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

"PATRIOTISM DAY" IN "EDUCATION WEEK"

(Houston Post)

To [illegible] that the result of the [illegible] upon the public school [illegible] Education is a prime rule to stable [illegible] government. Where there [illegible] on the people power? The vital relation between the school and our free institutions is self-evident.

Yet it may be doubted serious[ly] if the school system generally has measured up to its responsibility to give positive and direct instruction upon our democratic institutions, and to [illegible] in the youth the reverence for [illegible] government of law.

We make a great show of patriotism at the mere suggestion of war with another nation. The patriotism that draws a nation together into a compact body in time of danger is a noble thing. It comes down from the days of Paul Revere. Fine as is the patriotism of war, finer still is the patriotism of peace, for without the fruits of the spirit of patriotism, the Nation would not be capable of mobilizing its resources in defense of itself.

[illegible] in this Nation today is the necessity for developing a higher degree of patriotism for peace. Factionalism, at war with [illegible] government, selfish interests of one sort or another seeking advantages for themselves without reference to the effects upon others—these are menacing the foundations of our democracy.

As a public institution, it develops upon the school to inculcate in the younger generation as it comes along an understanding of and a reverence for the fundamentals of Americanism. With that done we shall have fewer efforts at self-seeking, less lawlessness, higher standards in the public service, and a more lively interest among the electorate in clean, efficient and enlightened government.

It does not speak too well for the public school system of Texas that it was only recently that the teaching of the constitution of the State and Nation was authorized by law.

Today has been selected as "Patriotism Day" in "Education Week" which is now being observed. Important as is education to the individual, the school can render no higher service to the individual than to give him the right concept on of the government under which he lives and to fit him to perform his duties as a citizens with intelligence and devotion.

There are other phases of the mission of the school, of course. It is well enough for the people in every community to discuss among themselves their school problems, and the work of the school in detail. Education today is the biggest branch of the public service, and the most important. It should challenge universal interest. But if all branches of education do not work together for the ultimate aim of creating a patriotism that expresses itself in the kind of living that makes for National security and progress, they fall short of their responsibility.

Without such a spirit of patriotism, the individual may become a menace in the very degree that he becomes educated.

I Offer Girls

My aids to beauty, and to woman youth

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I had a rich, ambitious mother. She searched the world with me to find the supreme beauty helps.

They made me a famous beauty. And now, after 40 years in the limelight, they keep me a beauty still.

Other girls, in these same ways, can multiply their beauty. Other women can, to old age, keep their youthful bloom. I want to help them do so. The very helps that France gave me are now at your command.

I am very—very busy on the stage. But I am taking time to tell you the secrets of my beauty and my youth. And I hope the time will come when girls and women by the millions will enjoy what I enjoy.

32 Helps in Four

I found 32 things that women need to keep them at their best. French experts combined them in four applications. Thus beauty and perennial youth were made very easy for me.

One is my White Youth Clay. Not like the crude and muddy clays so many use today. This clay is white, refined and dainty. Twenty years of scientific study have made it amazingly efficient.

I use White Youth Clay to purge my skin of all that clogs or mars it. It gives me that rosy, baby like complexion. Blackheads or pimples, oiliness or blemishes are unknown to me.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, keeps the face skin over like a girl's.

One application of my White Youth Clay brings almost unbelievable results. Many women seem to drop ten years. Continued use does marvels, as it did for me. No girl or woman who once tries this clay will go without it. The price is 50 cents and $1.

Two Matchless Creams

My Youth Cream is a cold cream, based on lemon and strawberry. It is made to embody all the best that science knows to whiten, feed, protect and smooth the skin. I use it after the clay. It is also my night cream, to apply on retiring. Daytimes I use it as a powder base. No one ever found a cold cream to compare with my Youth Cream.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. But it penetrates the skin to the depths. When I wipe it off, all that clogs the skin comes with it. No other method cleans a skin like this.

Luxuriant Hair

My hair is thick and lustrous. It grows finer every year. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray.

This is due to my Hair Youth, another French creation. I apply it daily with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It takes but a moment, and it does not muss the hair. I can do no greater kindness than to urge you to employ it. It costs 50 cents and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters supply these products which I use. The price is small. Every girl or woman, if she will, can have the benefits I got. Go find them out. My Beauty Book comes with each. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business address Waukesha, Wis.

SAVED SICK SPELLS

Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Known Its Usefulness Over 30 Years.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out from here on Route 3.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it.

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble.

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs.

Be sure to get the genuine, Thedford's.

RADIO RECEIVING SETS

By HARRY F. DART, E. E.
Conductor of the Radio Operator's Course for the International Correspondence Schools.

Article 4.

RADIO FREQUENCY AMPLIFICATION

A radio frequency amplifier is so named because it amplifies signals while they are still at radio frequency (just as received) and before they are rectified by a detector. Due to the excessively high-frequency nature of these currents it is necessary to use special types of coupling transformers and to employ extreme care in assembling and wiring the set. Once operating properly, however, such an amplifier can be easily tuned, and will give exceptionally good results in bringing in distant stations.

As a radio frequency amplifier is generally used with a coil antenna to utilize its directional and selective properties, such is shown at A in the accompanying figure. For general use on broadcast reception a square loop, 4 feet on a side, and wound with 6 turns of No. 20 copper wire, spaced ½ inch apart, will give the desired tuning range when used with a 43-plate condenser B. This condenser should have a 3-plate vernier, or a vernier control, for accurate tuning purposes.

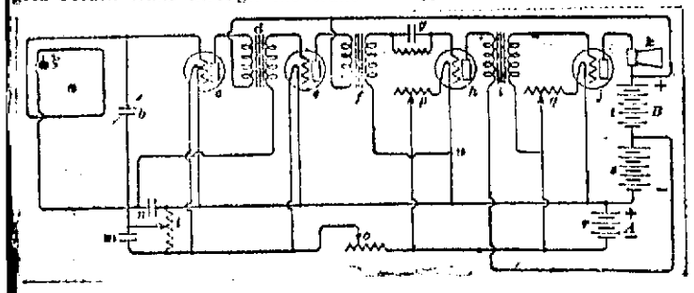
The first tube C amplifies the signals and passes it on to the special radio-frequency transformer O. The signal is then carried to the second radio-frequency amplifier tube E, where it is still further amplified. The next radio-frequency transformer F then sends the amplified signal through the grid condenser and leak G to the detector tube H where the signal is made audible by rectification. An audio-frequency transformer I and tube J amplify the signal at audio-frequency and send it through the loud speaker K. This set, therefore, comprises two stages of radio-frequency amplification, a detector, and one stage of audio-frequency amplification.

In order to get maximum amplification out of the amplifier it is desirable to have the grid-bias voltage such that the tubes nearly oscillate. This bias is very easily obtained and controlled by means of a potentiometer L whose ends or terminals are connected across the A battery. The grid return leads through the transformers to the left of the one connected to the detector tube H are all wired to the slider, or movable contact, shown near the middle of the potentiometer. By movements of the slider the grid bias may be accurately adjusted to its best value. As a great deal depends upon the accuracy and minuteness of this setting, it is very desirable to use a 400-ohm potentiometer, or one with a resistance of at least 300 ohms in any case. The small condensers M and N should each have a capacity of about .002 microfarad. In operation it is generally found that condenser N does very little good, and it may be eliminated.

The filament temperature of the radio-frequency amplifier tubes is not generally critical so both are shown connected through a common rheostat O. A separate rheostat P is used to control the filament current and temperature of the detector tube H. A separate rheostat Q controls the filament current of the audio-frequency amplifier tube from the common A battery R. A part of the B battery S is connected to the plate of the detector tube H, while a higher voltage, that of S and T combined, is supplied to all of the plate circuits of the amplifier tubes. The connection at U is shown as made to the postive terminal of the A battery. This connection should also be tried on the negative A battery lead, and then left permanently on the terminal on which the best signal is obtained.

The capacities between elements of the radio-frequency tubes, if relatively very large, act as shunt condensers across the transformer windings, and tend to limit the range of wavelengths over which the transformers will operate. Also the capacity between the grid and plate elements of the tube is apt to feed excessive energy from the plate to grid circuits causing the tube to oscillate readily. It is to control this tendency to oscillate that a potentiometer is used to adjust the grid-bias voltage. With some few types of transformers it is recommended to use a variable condenser across the secondary winding, or sometimes across the primary. This has the effect of making the set harder to tune, but gives greater amplification and better selectivity. Sometimes the tendency of the first amplifier tube to oscillate is controlled by a regular 10 to 30 ohm rheostat placed in the grid-return lead, that is, the lead to the potentiometer slider. The energy taken by this variable resistance will help to overcome the tendency to oscillate.

If it is desired to use the radio-frequencyl amplifier on a double-circuit tuner, the loop is merely replaced by the secondary winding. The primary winding of the tuner is then connected directly in the antenna circuit. It may be found necessary to connect a wire across the grid return to the potentiometer and the ground lead from the primary coil to get quiet operation. For a single-circuit tuner, the inductance unit would be connected directly in place of the loop; that is, one end of the tuner would go to the antenna and grid, and the other end would connect to the ground and the grid return to the potentiometer. In this event the grid condenser on the first tube will not be necessary across the inductance, so it is preferably connected in the antenna or ground lead.



Red Pepper Heat Stops Backache

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.—(Adv.)

Style Show Up Defects

The girls who can't wear clothes which are in style because they have eczema, rash, tetter, scrofula, or a "breaking out" where it would show, are more to be scolded than pitied, because there is no need for them to be unattractive in out-of-style dresses when they can get rid of these skin troubles so easily now.

The wonderful Black and White Ointment is surprising thousands of girls who have had to deny themselves the attention which more attractive girls get, because it quickly removes all trace of these skin troubles.

Nearly two million packages of Black and White Ointment are sold every year. Nothing could prove more forcibly that it actually gets quick and lasting results.

It is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All leaders have it.—(Adv.)

Healing Cream Stops Catarrh

If your nostrils are clogged and your head stuffed because of catarrh or a cold, get Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this pure, antiseptic, germ destroying cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head and membranes. Instant relief.

How good it feels. Your head is clear. Your nostrils are open. You breathe freely. No more hawking or snuffling. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up, choked up and miserable. Relief is sure.—(Adv.)

WACO.—Extension of the street car service over nine blocks of new track to the Central Texas Baptist Sanitarium has been accomplished.

CHILDRESS.—Plans have been made by the Texas Central Power Company for a large new power house to be built next spring.

Hide and Seek

ALL life is a game of hide and seek. The most valuable secrets of Nature are hidden. And man, to live, must seek and find them.

To build health and nourish the body it is necessary to choose those foods which contain the hidden, but essential elements that create energy and strength.

It has been found by health authorities that the food element, Dextrose, is essential for supplying warmth to the blood and vigor to the nerve and tissue cells. And it is the high percentage of Dextrose in Karo which makes it an especially important food for growing children. Every youngster delights in the delicious flavor of Karo, The Blue Label and Red Label Karo are equally nutritious.

LONGHORNS SAY THEY NEED OLD STARS TO WIN

By MORTON COBB

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 21.—"If we can get Captain Lane Tynes, Tackle Mortimer Sprague and End Nap Newell back into the line-up for Thanksgiving Day football game with A. & M. the Longhorns will have a fifty-fifty chance of winning," stated E. J. "Dana" Stewart, the University of Texas coach.

During the past few weeks the Longhorns have been playing without the services of three of their star players. Captain Tynes was injured in the early part of the Southwestern game. He was unable to play against Rice but the Oklahoma Sooners. Coach Stewart had to remove Sprague, end, Bolly Gilstrap, to the tackle to plug the gap. This left the weaker Sprague, in the opinion of University athletic authorities, is one of the best tackles the Longhorns have had in recent years. He did not even put on a uniform last Saturday. Nap Newell, who has performed brilliantly at end, is an inmate of a local hospital.

The splendid showing of the Longhorns against Oklahoma and the miserable playing of the Aggies against Rice Saturday, have not made the Longhorns over-confident in the coming Longhorn-Aggie game. The followers of the Longhorns remember that in 1921 the University of Texas defeated Rice 56 to 0, and a few weeks later Rice and A. & M. played a 6 to 6 tie. Ten days later the heralded Longhorns failed to defeat A. & M. on Kyle Field. Last year the Aggies had a poor season while the Longhorns made a remarkable record until the Thanksgiving game. Then the Farmers trounced the Longhorns, 14 to 7, on Clark Field in Austin. Comparative scores mean nothing in predicting the outcome of football games.

Behind closed gates the Longhorns are practicing this week for the final and most important game of the season. Coach Stewart and his assistants are giving their all to produce a team that will whip the Farmers. At the beginning of the year, football critics predicted that the Longhorns would lose the Vanderbilt, Baylor, Oklahoma and A. & M. games. Coach Stewart has turned out a team that so far has not met defeat. If his team can win from the Aggies Thanksgiving, the year of 1923 will go down into the records as the most successful football season in the history of the Longhorns. With this goal in view, the University of Texas student body, football players and coaches are making every effort to win the Thanksgiving game.

Family Reunited After Ten Years Anxious Waiting

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 21.—For the first time in ten years, Frank Yampolsky, Russian, is happy. After ten years of dread and suspense his wife and children have joined him from Russia.

In 1913, Yampolsky, tiring of the oppression in Russia, decided to cast his fortunes with the New World and came to Houston. He got a job and scrimped diligently to prepare for the day when he could send for his wife and children.

Until 1916 he was able to keep in touch with his family and send them money.

"Then everything went black," he says.

"For five long years I never heard a word about them—but I never gave up hope. I knew the Reds were overrunning Russia, plundering, pillaging, committing every kind of a crime.

"I was afraid perhaps they were dead—but I kept on hoping.

"Then out of a clear sky in 1921 came a telegram saying they were safe in Bucharest. I sent them money and arranged for their passage to America."

But in America new obstacles threw themselves into his path of happiness. The Russian quota was full and they faced a return to Russia.

Everything Yampolsky had was thrown into the fight to keep his loved ones here, Mayor Holcombe, Congressman Dan Garrett and others lent their aid. Armed with their letters, Yampolsky went to Washington to personally plead his case.

After days of suspense the Labor Department granted his request and Yampolsky hastened to Quebec where he met his family and brought them home to Houston.

"I knew my wife—yes," Yampolsky said. "But my little girl—no. When I left Russia she was only five years old. Now she is fifteen—almost a grown woman."

"It is good to have them back."

SPILT MILK

David Murphy was up from Groesbeck Sunday.

R. L. Adams is out again after a siege of la grippe.

John R. Corley has returned from a business trip to San Antonio.

Hon. A. J. Harper, upon authority of the commissioners court, sold the $20,000 issue of Limestone county road bonds to the State Board of Education, realizing par value. This sum is now available for the public road improvement now going on over the county.—Kosse Cyclone.

Mrs. T. M. Robinson and children, who have been here for the past two months visiting relatives, have returned to their home in Tuscoloosa, Ala.

Editorial —The Texas delegation in congress has reached an agreement as to what they want from the national government in the way of fighting the boll weevil. An appropriation of $500,000 will be asked for, and with that amount properly expended it is thought that much good can be done.

The statement of the First National Bank shows individual deposits amounting to $95,012.97.

Dave Denning left Monday for St. Joe, Mo., where he has accepted a position in an undertakers establishment. Dave is a worthy young man and has many friends here whose best wishes go with him.

C. J. Hancock died at his home near Cedar Island and was buried two miles east of Mexia Saturday afternoon.

Hon. A. J. Harper and wife are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy that recently arrived at their home in Groesbeck.

O. Bone Kennedy is hobbling around on a stick as the result of an accident several days ago in which he was jerked out of a buggy by a horse he was leading, and sprained his ankle.—Groesbeck Correspondent.

Honor Roll

The following pupils of the Mexia Public Schools constitute the honor roll for the second scholastic month, ending November 6, 1903. Tenth Grade.—Roy Adamson, Clyde Moore, Mattie Stanberry.

Eight Grade.—Albert Jackson, Borrill Walker, Della Wallace, Helen Sawyer, John Street.

Seventh Grade.—Eula Schulz.

First Grade.—Marcus Corley, Hilda Clarke, Ab Steele.

MASONIC GRAND MASTER THOMAS NOT COMING

On account of a mix up in his dates, Hon. Mike Thomas, Grand Master, will not visit the local Masonic lodge tonight, as was announced a few days ago.

Instead, Coeur de Lion Commandery Knights Templar, will meet at 6:30 p. m. and confer the Red Cross and Temple degrees on two candidates.

El Paso Has Deaf Mute Class in Her Public Schools

EL PASO, Texas Nov. 21.—Probably the strangest school class in Texas is the one composed of 13 deaf mutes here who are learning to read and write and to read lips. Some of them are gradually learning to talk.

The students range in age from 6 to 35 years. Their progress in a single month is remarkable, according to Miss Frances Stevens, teacher.

Edmund Cordove, 8, has been in the class for a year and can read, write and talk intelligibly. A year ago he could do none of these. Hamilton Binkley, another, is doing seventh grade work, and talks almost as well as a person with normal hearing.

Realizing they are handicapped, the mutes apply themselves to every task with great ardor, Miss Stevens says.

ELGIN.—A new power plant to cost fifty thousand dollars will be built by the local light company beginning soon.

QUANAH.—Ninety-five new street lights are to be placed in this city at once. When they are installed this city will have 515 large street lights.

NAVASOTA.—Materials are on hand for extensive improvements to the local telephone exchange.

SUPERB COSTUMES SEEN IN "BLOOD AND SAND"

Three richly embroidered costumes weighing 105 pounds provide much of the interest attendant upon Rodolph Valentino's colorful and varied wardrobe in his new Paramount picture, "Blood and Sand" by Vicente Blasco Ibanez, which is playing at the Grand theatre, today. Thirty-five pounds each, weigh the gorgeous silver, gold and satin tornador costumes worn by the star in his appearances as "Juan Gallardo," a bull fighter of Spain. When fully dressed with the addition of his cape of pink silk, a Spanish bull-fighter tinkles and rings like a battery of bells on a busy Sunday.

But the torero suits are not the only colorful features of the Valentino impersonation in this picture. There is a ragged outfit of the young street gamin with bull-fighter aspirations and the dashing gypsy costume worn at Gallardo's country place. All have been figured to display at its best the vivid, exotic touch which has created the sudden, country-wide Valentino vogue.

The Valentino genius for romantic love-making has adequate opportunity with the two widely differentiated feminine leads, played by Lila Lee, sweet and gentle, and Nita Naldi, volcanic and tempestuous. "Blood and Sand," is a Fred Niblo production, adapted by June Mathis. Alvin Wyckoff photographed. Included in the cast are Walter Long, Leo White, Rose Rosanova, Marie Marstini; Geo. Field, Fred Becker, Charles Belcher.

AMERICANS MAY LOSE THE NEXT OLYMPICS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—"America may lose the championship at the next Olympic games. We don't want to but if we must the main thing is to lose like gentlemen," Colonel Robert M. Thompson, president of the American Olympic Committee said last night at the annual dinner of American Fencer's League.

In selecting the team that will carry the American shield to Paris, Col Thompson said the committee was going to pick "men not only of good arms and legs but of good hearts and heads also, men whom we can be proud of as American citizens."

Colonel Thompson returned recently after spending several months in the old world.

Grand Com. Officer Inspects Coeur de Lion Commandery

About fifty members of Coeur de Lion Commandery No. 52, Knights Templar, and several visitors, assembled at the Masonic hall last night for the annual inspection and visit, which was made by Sir Wm. G. Bell of Austin, Grand Generalisimo of the Grand Commandery of Texas.

The Order of the Temple was conferred on one Knight of Malta, and the Commandery was afterwards inspected.

Sir Bell made a good talk to the members present, urging that the younger members learn the work and relieve some of the older ones who are now doing it all. It was a good talk in which the speaker called attention to the work that is being done by Masons for humanity by building and maintaining hospitals and homes, and he incidentally mentioned the girls dormitory on the University campus, built by Masons for the accommodation of daughters of Master Masons attending the University. It was a profitable meeting and those who failed to attend missed a treat.

The Commandery meets at 6:30 tonight for degree work. Be there and help.

FEDERAL COURT DECIDES AGAINST WALTON

December Cotton Reaches New High Mark

"Guilty" Says Jury In Cook Trial At Fort Worth

Trapp Retains Governor's Office In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 21.—The plea of Former Governor Walton for a injunction writ restraining M. E. Trapp from assuming the office of Governor, was thrown out of the Federal Court when the motion came up for rehearing.

With the case of J. C. Walton, ousted Governor, definitely out of its way, the Oklahoma Legislature turned today to the purging of its membership and the consideration of anti-Klan legislation.

The defeat of the appeal of Walton counsel late yesterday to have the record transcript of the impeachment trial certified to by Chief Justice Johnston and denial of their attempt to enter a bill of exceptions took the case definitely out of the hands of the Legislature, the prosecution indicated.

The next move of the ousted Governor, if any, against the trial procedure must be lodged in Federal courts, although it was thought improbable by House leaders today.

Consideration anti-Klan measures presented in both houses was next on the calendar in the Senate today with impeachment charges imminent against Guy Siglar, Ardmore Representative, and Charles Ruth, Supreme Court commissioner, upon allegations of trafficking in acts of clemency. Ouster charges were filed against Murray Gibbons, former speaker of the House yesterday, by a special House committee.

Firpo Declares No Complaint Against Champ

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 21.—Luis Angel Firpo, South American champion, in an interview with the United Press, denied statements attributed to him that he was given a short count in his fight with Jack Dempsey, that he had been treated unfairly by the referee and that the officials at the ring side had restrained his seconds from making a protest on a foul.

"These statements ware made by Horacio Lavelle, my adviser and chief second, and I am not responsible for them," Firpo said.

He added that he had no complaint to make against Dempsey, the referee, the boxing commission or the fans.

McAdoo Forces Claim Victory

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 21.—Forces supporting the candidacy of William G. McAdoo for the presidency claimed a "convincing victory for conservative democracy," on practically complete returns from the county proposal conventions held throughout South Dakota Tuesday.

In the Republican proposal conventions, most of the delegates were uninstructed but scattering votes went to supporters of President Coolidge and Senator Hiram Johnson, Cal.

Sentence Will Be Announced At 4:30 P.M.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 21.—The government scored a signal victory today in its fight against alleged fake oil stock promoters when a jury in a Federal Court brought in a verdict of guilty against Dr. Frederick A. Cook, S. J. Cox and associates. The case went to the jury at 6:00 p. m. Tuesday and the jury's verdict was reached this afternoon.

In his charge to the jury the Federal Judge John M. Killits declared that each of the 15 defendants must be treated separately, weighing the evidence in each case. As a result it is declared that all but one of the 16 defendants were found guilty. The exception was A. M. Delcambre who was acquitted on instructions by the Court.

Sentence will be imposed and announced by Judge Killits at 4:30 this afternoon.

The act of those found guilty was characterized by the Court as "atrocious, dishonest and obhorrant."

Cook and eleven defendants were found guilty on all counts. S. E. J. Cox on 8.

The News will post the sentence on its bulletin boards at the Pioneer News stand, corner of Commerce and Sherman immediately upon receipt of the message from the United Press.

Insurgents Bolt When Conference Considers Ford

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 21.—An insurget group in the newly formed national independent-progressive party today bolted the executive conference here during an argument on the proposed candidacy of Henry Ford.

Headed by J. A. H. Hopkins, chairman of the "Committee of 48," the insurgents held a meeting, of their own last night, refused to endorse Henry Ford as the party's candidate for the presidency and considered holding a national convention in St. Paul, May 30, 1924.

The "regulars," under the leadership of Roy M. Harrop, sponsor of the party, went ahead with the meeting, endorsed Ford for President and voted to hold a national convention in either Denver or Omaha next year.

The faction favoring Ford as the party's candidate, voted to approve the name Peoples Progressive Party.

Pinchot Outlines A Two Fold Plan For U. S. Farmers

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 21.—Gifford Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania, speaking here today before the national convention of the Farmers Union, outlined a two fold plan for bringing lasting help to the American farmer.

"To make certain that the farmer will have better markets," Pinchot said, "we must:"

"1. Cooperate.

"2. Complete the lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway."

Cooperation, Pinchot said, means more than cooperative marketing. It includes cooperative storage, cooperative buying and cooperative information.

"I have long been and am today more than ever, a convinced and enthusiastic believer in cooperation among farmers," Pinchot declared.

Discussing the waterway project, Pinchot outlined a great system of deep channels, running through the Middle-West, which, he said, would bring the world market to the farmer's silo.

"The lakes to the Gulf deep waterway was strongly endorsed by President Harding's nation wide agricultureal project, Pinchot said. "No one should object because we are asking for construction of this great deep waterway within our boundaries. The expense will bring immediate return in lower freight rates, better markets and increased prosperity."

Pinchot compared the expense and necessity of building the inland waterway to that of building the Panama Canal, asserting that the benefits of the former were far greater than those of the canal.

CONVENTION REPORT TO BE MADE HERE AT BAPTISTCHURCH

Rev. Joe Jeffers, pastor of the First Baptist church, announces that reports will be made to the congregation tonight of the convention held in Galveston last week. A full attendance of the membership is urged and visitors are invited.

The Army and Navy clash at New York will also get their share of enthusiasm. The Army's hopes are built around Smythe the wonderful field general of the sodliers who is almost a whole team by himself. Dopesters see this game as a tossup.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 21.—The S. M. U. freshmen eleven trounced the varsity reserves 12 to 0 in a game in which the first year men outplayed their more experienced opponents in all departments.

Galli-Curci Quits Chicago Opera.

Amelita Galli-Curci, coloratura soprano of the Chicago Opera Company, has severed her connection with that organization. While her contract will hold her there this season she will not renew it. Disagreement over the opera in which she was to make her 1923 debut caused the breach.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR SPECIAL TO KAREM AT WACO

According to the schedule, the special will leave Teague at 7:40, arriving at Mexia at 8:15. About 60 are expected from Teague. The train will be manned by Nobles. A parade of Shriners and novices will be staged from the Masonic Temple on East Commerce street just before the arrival of the train. The special will include 7 passenger coaches and possibly an observation coach. Nobles and their ladies and Masons and their ladies are included in the party to make the trip. Local ticket stations report a heavy sale and a large crowd.

T. E. L. CLASS

The T. E. L. class of the Baptist church will have their monthly social next Tuesday night at the church instead of Thursday as announced at Sunday school. The ladies are to meet in a business session at 6:30 to be joined by their husbands at 7:30 for a social hour.

J. R. Janak and family have moved from the Gus Pierce cottage in Speed Heights, to the Northcut place, West of the old Methodist parsonage.

"Spurious" Doctors Investigated By A Connecticutt Jury

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 21.—Investigation into the medical and surgical practice in Connecticut of "doctor's" holding spurious physicians' diplomas, was resumed here today when the grand jury, called for the purpose at the request of Governor Templeton, convened for its third day.

Three witnesses have been examined and fifty-three subpoenas issued for persons believed to be familiar with the inside of a "diploma mill", the headquarters of which is said to be in St. Louis and Kansas City.

Most striking of the testimony recited before the jury yesterday was that of I. B. Cook, fellow worker of Albert C. Hodoy, who died under an anaesthetic while being operated on by Dr. George M. Sutcliffe, confessed holder of a fake diploma.

Hoody, with a crushed finger, was taken to Sutcliffe by Cook. Sutcliffe decided an amputation was necessary and after strapping Hoody to an operating table asked Cook to administer ether.

"At least three cans of ether were poured on the gauze over Hoody's face," Cook sobbed as he related his experience to the jury.

"I didn't know how much to put on. I only followed Dr. Sutcliffe's instructions."

Sutcliffe, a former St. Louis news photographer, now believed to be out of the State, was being sought today for appearance before the jury.

Sutcliffe was understood to have bought the practice of Dr. E. M. Ripley of Unionville, where the photographer "practiced" for nearly a year. Dr. Ripley signed the death certificate for burial of Hoody's body.

LITTLE HOPE FOR VERNON LAD.

VERNON, Texas, Nov. 21.—Small hope was held out today for the recovery of Eldon Hutto, 8, who was seriously burned here yesterday when a pocketful of matches were ignited, setting fire to his clothes. Passersby extinguished the flames after catching the boy as he ran screaming down the street..

He had gone to a store for a can of oil and in some way, the oil spilled on his clothes, which were partially burned from the boy's body.

Man Sentenced To Die As Spy Freed From Leavenworth And Will Be Deported Immediately

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Nov. 21.—Lother Witzke, sentenced to death as a German spy during the war, was released from Federal prison here today. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by President Wilson and he was pardoned by President Coolidge. Witzke was tried by a military court at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, accused of having obtained information at a military encampment near Nogales, Ariz., regarding movements of American troops with the intention of forwarding it to Germany. Warden W. I. Biddle said Witzke had been a "good prisoner."

Representatives of the German Government met him at the prison gates and will accompany him to see that he is immediately deported, as provided in the order.

MEXIA IS AMERICA

Education week is being observed throughout the nation. Tuesday was "Patriotism Day", an occasion by which American youth is to be enriched.

The schols of the United States, it is hoped due to the influence of this observance, will become more and more alert to the opportunities that are theirs to safeguard the nation, to mould boys into great citizens. A nation's grandeur is not estimated in its domain, not in its wealth, not in its population, but in the spirit and character of its people. The time to begin the development of the proper spirit and character in citizenship is about four generations back. Men and women of America today are fortunate in being able to point back to a patriotic and illustrious ancestry, and in the heritage handed down is properly safeguarded it must be through the education given to present citizens in the making. Texas schools should be the most American institutions in this country. In them should be taught lessons in citizenship with constant stress directed toward the creation of home pride, love for the particular community in which young Texas resides. As far as Americans living in Mexia are concerned, Mexia is to them and for them is their America.

NOBLES INDIVIDUALS OF ACTION

Nobles of this section of Texas will Thursday gather at Waco for a ceremonial towards which they have been looking for many weeks. Karem Temple bears the reputation of staging many high class entertainments and it is reported that this time a program out of the ordinary and embracing old fashioned fellowship has been planned. Mexia will be well represented at the affair. Nobles of the Mystic Shrine from all surrounding towns and communities will occupy the Mexia Shrine Club Special and the successes in Waco Thursday will be due in no small measure to the enthusiasm, to the spirit and to the liveliness of the several hundred who will go from here. Nobles Frank Bolton, Sam Werner, ring candidate Rodney Tidwell and his campaign manager H. B. Littman, as well as many others have been diligent in their duties and have exceeded all effort of their active past in making the Special from here a certain success. Indeed, fortunate is a community which is the home of such a Nobility. It has been said that men are divided into two classes, those who argue and those who act. Shrinedom, though, has only one class—those who act.

THE DREAMERS

By BEN B. HUNT

When Joseph had his dreams of old
In days when he was young,
They never left his youthful heart,
Which sorrow often wrung.

The visions touched his tender years,
Of great things he would do,
And then thru life of toil and strife
They kept his purpose true.

When Abram stood beneath the stars
And look'd into the sky,
A vision of the promised land
Came gently floating by;

And all the world has been amazed
And stirr'd with purpose grand
Because young Abram had his dream
Of that great promised land.

Let all enraptured souls dream on,
Their hearts with bliss be fill'd,
For dreams are like a tender voice,
That never should be still'd.

O men may toil and men may pray
And men may work from day to day,
But never can their work withstand
The storms and strife on ev'ry hand
Unless within their hearts we find
A vision great has been enshrined.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

"PATRIOTISM DAY" IN "EDUCATION WEEK"

(Houston Post)

To say that the security of the country rests upon the public school is trite. Education is a prerequisite to stable self-government. "Where there is no vision, the people perish." The vital relation between the school and our free institutions is self-evident.

Yet it may be doubted seriously if the school, speaking generally, has measured up to its responsibility to give positive and direct instruction upon our democratic institutions, and to inculcate in the youth the reverence for our government of law.

We make a great show of patriotism at the mere suggestion of war with another nation. The patriotism that draws a nation together into a compact body in time of danger is instinctive. It comes down from tribal days. Fine as is the patriotism of war, finer still is the patriotism of peace, for without the fruits of that sort of patriotism, the Nation would not be capable of mobilizing effectively in defense of itself.

Conditions in this Nation today surely suggest the necessity for developing a higher degree of patriotism for peace. Factionalism, attempts at class government, selfish interests of one sort or another seeking advantages for themselves without reference to the effects upon others—these are menacing the foundations of our democracy.

As a public institution, it develops upon the school to inculcate in the younger generation as it comes along an understanding of and a reverence for the fundamentals of Americanism. With that done we shall have fewer efforts at self-seeking, less lawlessness, higher standards in the public service, and a more lively interest among the electorate in clean, efficient and enlightened government.

It does not speak too well for the public school system of Texas that it was only recently that the teaching of the constitution of the State and Nation was authorized by law.

Today has been selected as 'Patriotism Day' in "Education Week" which is now being observed. Important as is education to the individual, the school can render no higher service to the individual than to give him the right conception of the government under which he lives and to fit him to perform his duties as a citizens with intelligence and devotion.

There are other phases of the mission of the school, of course. It is well enough for the people in every community to discuss among themselves their school problems, and the work of the school in detail. Education today is the biggest branch of the public service, and the most important. It should challenge universal interest. But if all branches of education do not work together for the ultimate aim of creating a patriotism that expresses itself in the kind of living that makes for National security and progress, they fall short of their responsibility.

Without such a spirit of patriotism, the individual may become a menace in the very degree that he becomes educated.

SAVED SICK SPELLS

Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Known Its Usefulness Over 30 Years.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out from here on Route 3.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it.

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble.

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs.

Be sure to get the genuine, Thedford's.

I Offer Girls

My aids to beauty, and to woman youth
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I had a rich, ambitious mother. She searched the world with me to find the supreme beauty helps.

They made me a famous beauty. And now, after 40 years in the limelight, they keep me a beauty still.

Other girls, in these same ways, can multiply their beauty. Other women can, to old age, keep their youthful bloom. I want to help them do so. The very helps that France gave me are now at your command.

I am very—very busy on the stage. But I am taking time to tell you the secrets of my beauty and my youth. And I hope the time will come when girls and women by the millions will enjoy what I enjoy.

32 Helps in Four

I found 32 things that women need to keep them at their best. French experts combined them in four applications. Thus beauty and perennial youth were made very easy for me.

One is my White Youth Clay. Not like the crude and muddy clays so many use today. This clay is white, refined and dainty. Twenty years of scientific study have made it amazingly efficient.

I use White Youth Clay to purge my skin of all that clogs or mars it. It gives me that rosy, baby-like complexion. Blackheads or pimples, oiliness or blemishes are unknown to me.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, keeps the face skin ever like a girl's.

One application of my White Youth Clay brings almost unbelievable results. Many women seem to drop ten years. Continued use does marvels, as it did for me. No girl or woman who once tries this clay will go without it. The price is 50 cents and $1.

Two Matchless Creams

My Youth Cream is a cold cream, based on lemon and strawberry. It is made to embody all the best that science knows to whiten, feed, protect and smooth the skin. I use it after the clay. It is also my night cream, to apply on retiring. Daytimes I use it as a powder base. No one ever found a cold cream to compare with my Youth Cream.

My Facial Youth is a liquid cleanser. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. It cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. But it penetrates the skin to the depths. When I wipe it off, all that clogs the skin comes with it. No other method cleans a skin like this.

Luxuriant Hair

My hair is thick and lustrous. It grows finer every year. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray.

This is due to my Hair Youth, another French creation. I apply it daily with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It takes but a moment, and it does not muss the hair. I can do no greater kindness than to urge you to employ it. It costs 50 cents and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters supply these products which I use. The price is small. Every girl or woman, if she will, can have the benefits I got. Go find them out. My Beauty Book comes with each. Edna Wallace Hopper. Business address. Waukesha, Wis.

RADIO RECEIVING SETS

By HARRY F. DART, E. E.
Compiler of the Radio Operator's Course for the International Correspondence Schools.

Article 4.

RADIO FREQUENCY AMPLIFICATION

A radio frequency amplifier is so named because it amplifies signals while they are still at radio frequency (just as received) and before they are rectified by a detector. Due to the excessively high-frequency nature of these currents it is necessary to use special types of coupling transformers and to employ extreme care in assembling and wiring the set. Once operating properly, however, such an amplifier can be easily tuned, and will give exceptionally good results in bringing in distant stations.

As a radio frequency amplifier is generally used with a coil antenna to utilize its directional and selective properties, such is shown at A in the accompanying figure. For general use on broadcast reception a square loop. 4 feet on a side, and wound with 6 turns of No. 20 copper wire, spaced ½ inch apart, will give the desired tuning range when used with a 43-plate condenser B. This condenser should have a 3-plate vernier, or a vernier control, for accurate tuning purposes.

The first tube C amplifies the signals and passes it on to the special radio-frequency transformer O. The signal is then carried to the second radio-frequency amplifier tube E, where it is still further amplified. The next radio-frequency transformer F then sends the amplified signal through the grid condenser and leak G to the detector tube H where the signal is made audible by rectification. An audio-frequency transformer I and tube J amplify the signal at audio-frequency and send it through the loud speaker K. This set, therefore, comprises two stages of radio-frequency amplification, a detector, and one stage of audio-frequency amplification.

In order to get maximum amplification out of the amplifier it is desirable to have the grid-bias voltage such that the tubes nearly oscillate. This bias is very easily obtained and controlled by means of a potentiometer L whose ends or terminals are connected across the A battery. The grid return leads through the transformers to the left of the one connected to the detector tube H are all wired to the slider, or movable contact, shown near the middle of the potentiometer. By movements of the slider the grid bias may be accurately adjusted to its best value. As a great deal depends upon the accuracy and minuteness of this setting, it is very desirable to use a 400-ohm potentiometer, or one with a resistance of at least 300 ohms in any case. The small condensers M and N should each have a capacity of about .002 microfarad. In operation it is generally found that condenser N does very little good, and it may be eliminated.

The filament temperature of the radio-frequency amplifier tubes is not generally critical so both are shown connected through a common rheostat O. A separate rheostat P is used to control the filament current and temperature of the detector tube H. A separate rheostat Q controls the filament current of the audio-frequency amplifier tube from the common A battery R. A part of the B battery S is connected to the plate of the detector tube H, while a higher voltage, that of S and T combined, is supplied to all of the plate circuits of the amplifier tubes. The connection at U is shown as made to the postive terminal of the A battery. This connection should also be tried on the negative A battery lead, and then left permanently on the terminal on which the best signal is obtained.

The capacities between elements of the radio-frequency tubes, if relatively very large, act as shunt condensers across the transformer windings, and tend to limit the range of wavelengths over which the transformers will operate. Also the capacity between the grid and plate elements of the tube is apt to feed excessive energy from the plate to grid circuits causing the tube to oscillate readily. It is to control this tendency to oscillate that a potentiometer is used to adjust the grid-bias voltage. With some few types of transformers it is recommended to use a variable condenser across the secondary winding, or sometimes across the primary. This has the effect of making the set harder to tune, but gives greater amplification and better selectivity. Sometimes the tendency of the first amplifier tube to oscillate is controlled by a regular 10 to 30 ohm rheostat placed in the grid-return lead, that is, the lead to the potentiometer slider. The energy taken by this variable resistance will help to overcome the tendency to oscillate.

If it is desired to use the radio-frequencyl amplifier on a double-circuit tuner, the loop is merely replaced by the secondary winding. The primary winding of the tuner is then connected directly in the antenna circuit. It may be found necessary to connect a wire across the grid return to the potentiometer and the ground lead from the primary coil to get quiet operation. For a single-circuit tuner, the inductance unit would be connected directly in place of the loop; that is, one end of the tuner would go to the antenna and grid, and the other end would connect to the ground and the grid return to the potentiometer. In this event the grid condenser on the first tube will not be necessary across the inductance, so it is preferably connected in the antenna or ground lead.

LONGHORNS SAY THEY NEED OLD STARS TO WIN

By MOULTON COBB

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 21.—"If we can get Captain Lane Tynes, Tackle Mortimer Sprague and End Nap Newell back into the line-up for Thanksgiving Day football game with A. & M., the Longhorns will have a fifty-fifty chance of winning," stated E. J. "Doc" Stewart, the University of Texas coach.

During the past few weeks the Longhorns have been playing without the services of three of their star players. Captain Tynes was injured in the early part of the Southwestern game. He was unable to play against Rice, Baylor and the Oklahoma Sooners. Coach Stewart had to remove his star end, Bully Gilstrap, to the backfield to plug the gap. This left his line weaker. Sprague, in the opinion of University athletic authorities, is one of the best tackles the Longhorns have had in recent years. He did not even put on a uniform last Saturday. Nap Newell, who has performed brilliantly at end, is an inmate of a local hospital.

The splendid showing of the Longhorns against Oklahoma and the miserable playing of the Aggies against Rice Saturday, have not made the Longhorns over-confident in the coming Longhorn-Aggie game. The followers of the Longhorns remember that in 1921 the University of Texas defeated Rice 56 to 0, and a few weeks later Rice and A. & M. played a 6 to 6 tie. Ten days later the heralded Longhorns failed to defeat A. & M. on Kyle Field. Last year the Aggies had a poor season while the Longhorns made a remarkable record until the Thanksgiving game. Then the Farmers trounced the Longhorns, 14 to 7, on Clark Field in Austin. Comparative scores mean nothing in predicting the outcome of football games.

Behind closed gates the Longhorns are practicing this week for the final and most important game of the season. Coach Stewart and his assistants are giving their all to produce a team that will whip the Farmers. At the beginning of the year, football critics predicted that the Longhorns would lose the Vanderbilt, Baylor, Oklahoma and A. & M. games. Coach Stewart has turned out a team that so far has not met defeat. If his team can win from the Aggies Thanksgiving, the year of 1923 will go down into the records as the most successful football season in the history of the Longhorns. With this goal in view, the University of Texas student body, football players and coaches are making every effort to win the Thanksgiving game.

Family Reunited After Ten Years Anxious Waiting

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 21.—For the first time in ten years, Frank Yampolsky, Russian, is happy. After ten years of dread and suspense his wife and children have joined him from Russia.

In 1913, Yampolsky, tiring of the oppression in Russia, decided to cast his fortunes with the New World and came to Houston. He got a job and scrimped diligently to prepare for the day when he could send for his wife and children.

Until 1916 he was able to keep in touch with his family and send them money.

"Then everything went black," he says.

"For five long years I never heard a word about them—but I never gave up hope. I knew the Reds were overrunning Russia, plundering, pillaging, committing every kind of a crime.

"I was afraid perhaps they were dead—but I kept on hoping.

"Then out of a clear sky in 1921 came a telegram saying they were safe in Bucharest. I sent them money and arranged for their passage to America."

But in America new obstacles threw themselves into his path of happiness. The Russian quota was full and they faced a return to Russia.

Everything Yampolsky had was thrown into the fight to keep his loved ones here, Mayor Holcombe, Congressman Dan Garrett and others lent their aid. Armed with their letters, Yampolsky went to Washington to personally plead his case.

After days of suspense the Labor Department granted his request and Yampolsky hastened to Quebec where he met his family and brought them home to Houston.

"I knew my wife—yes," Yampolsky said. "But my little girl—no. When I left Russia she was only five years old. Now she is fifteen—almost a grown woman."

"It is good to have them back."

El Paso Has Deaf Mute Class in Her Public Schools

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 21.—Probably the strangest school class in Texas is the one composed of 13 deaf mutes here who are learning to read and write and to read lips. Some of them are gradually learning to talk.

The students range in age from 6 to 35 years. Their progress in a single month is remarkable, according to Miss Frances Stevens, teacher.

Edmund Cordove, 8, has been in the class for a year and can read, write and talk intelligibly. A year ago he could do none of these. Hamilton Binkley, another, is doing seventh grade work, and talks almost as well as a person with normal hearing.

Realizing they are handicapped, the mutes apply themselves to every task with great ardor, Miss Stevens says.

ELGIN.—A new power plant to cost fifty thousand dollars will be built by the local light company beginning soon.

QUANAH.—Ninety-five new street lights are to be placed in this city at once. When they are installed this city will have 515 large street lights.

STARS THAT SHINE IN THE STICKS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Willie Hoppe, world's billiard champion off and on for seventeen years, is to defend his title in a play-off match next month in Chicago against young Welker Cochran.

Hoppe probably will win because he is better fitted temperamentally to stand the nerve strain resulting from a month's intermission in the play.

Cochran is flighty of nerves, like many youngsters. His youthful susceptibility to mental harzards probably caused him to muff the chance to win the recent championship tournament instead of finishing in a tie.

Cochran defeated Hoppe in one of the early matches of the tournament. The match was not finished until midnight and the youngster said he was so excited that he was unable to sleep that night. He had to play at noon the next day and was defeated by Hagenlacher, the German.

Recently Cochran opened a billiard parlor in Hollywood and he was so busy getting his business underway that he had no time to train or practice for the championship.

Between now and December 16 when the play-off starts in Chicago with the champion, he probably will spend all his time in practice and thinking about Hoppe.

Which will do him no good.

While football is more or less of a timely subject, here's one for the book before it is closed.

King College, Bristol Tenn.; enrollment 92; football coach, A. C. Adams, Maryland '10; squad 42; eligibility, strict.

Record: In 1922 won seven games and scored 498 without being scored upon.

In six games of this season, Bristol scored 432 points to six. Beat Bluefield 68-0;Tennessee Poly, 75-0; Elon, 55-6; Lenoir, 86-0; East Tennessee Normal, 108-0; Milligan, 40-0.

No big teams on the list, but it is claimed big teams won't take them.

Elton Sharpe, a 160-pound back, triple threat, fine kicker and great runner, is the big punch of the team and some judges who have seen him play say that he is one of the finest backs in the country.

Another light that has never been able to shine from rather secluded surroundings is Stockton, of Gonzaga team.

Eastern critics who saw the West Virginia-Gonzaga game last year said that Stockton was one of the finest football players they had ever seen.

Surroundings have everything to do with the fame that can be won by a football player.

High Cost Cow Feed Hard On Dallas Dairymen

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 21.—Advancing feed costs have discouraged dairy farmers in this vicinity to such an extent that Dallas is in danger of a milk famine, according to the report of C. M. Evans, sales manager of the North Texas Dairymen's Association which he submitted to the Association convention here.

Cost of feed has advanced on an average of 20%, according to Evans. Dairymen, discouraged by the outlook have in many instances sold out and entered new fields. This is particularly true around Dallas, Evans said.

Production costs also have mounted so that dairymen are finding it hard to make both ends meet, Evans said.

Co-operative purchasing of feed and supplies was urged by Evans as the method to cure present conditions.

BROWNWOOD.—The West Texas Telephone Co. with headquarters here finds that their business has grown to where an average of fifty thousand telephone conversations are held daily through their sixteen exchanges.

GRAHAM.—Extensions and improvements of the local telephone facilities are to be made at once.

SUPERB COSTUMES SEEN IN "BLOOD AND SAND"

Three richly embroidered costumes weighing 105 pounds provide much of the interest attendant upon Rodolph Valentino's colorful and varied wardrobe in his new Paramount picture, "Blood and Sand" by Vicente Blasco Ibanez, which is playing at the Grand theatre, today. Thirty-five pounds each, weigh the gorgeous silver, gold and satin tornador costumes worn by the star in his appearances as "Juan Gallardo," a bull fighter of Spain. When fully dressed with the addition of his cape of pink silk, a Spanish bull-fighter tinkles and rings like a battery of bells on a busy Sunday.

But the torero suits are not the only colorful features of the Valentino impersonation in this picture. There is a ragged outfit of the young street gamin with bull-fighter aspirations and the dashing gypsy costume worn at Gallardo's country place. All have been figured to display at its best the vivid, exotic touch which has created the sudden, country-wide Valentino vogue.

The Valentino genius for romantic love-making has adequate opportunity with the two widely differentiated feminine leads, played by Lila Lee, sweet and gentle, and Nita Naldi, volcanic and tempestuous. "Blood and Sand," is a Fred Niblo production, adapted by June Mathis. Alvin Wyckoff photographed. Included in the cast are Walter Long, Leo White, Rose Rosanova, Marie Marstini, Geo. Field, Fred Becker, Charles Belcher.

AMERICANS MAY LOSE THE NEXT OLYMPICS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—"America may lose the championship at the next Olympic games. We don't want to but if we must the main thing is to lose like gentlemen," Colonel Robert M. Thompson, president of the American Olympic Committee said last night at the annual dinner of American Fencer's League.

In selecting the team that will carry the American shield to Paris, Col. Thompson said the committee was going to pick "men not only of good arms and legs but of good hearts and heads also, men whom we can be proud of as American citizens."

Colonel Thompson returned recently after spending several months in the old world.

ALVATION ARMY CAPTURES THE SOUTHWEST

eutenant-Colonel Georg Wood, mander of the Southwestern sion of the Salvation Army, with diction over activities in the es of Texas and Louisiana, recent- bserved the seventh anniversary of present command and the thirty- anniversary of his career in the ation Army.

nce Colonel Wood was placed in mand of the Southwestern Divi- he has seen new corps established wenty cities; three young women's ding homes opened; several men's ls and emergency homes dedicated the divisional Woman's Home and ernity Hospital at San Antonio rged to double its old capacity.

ntil two years ago the state of ahoma was a part of this division, on the initiative of Col. Wood, an pendent division was formed of state, taking eleven corps from Wood's command, in addition to r institutions such as boarding es and men's hotels.

even years ago, according to the rds in Divisional Headquarters Dallas, there were only five Salva- Army properties in the South- tern Division. Three of these perties were in Texas and two in ahoma. Their value was approxi- tely $50,000. Today there are y two properties with an apprais- total value of $700,000. The re- t annual report shows.

wenty-two pieces of property have n bought, at Col. Wood's direction corps purposes, and fourteen for icers' quarters. Seven new build- s have been constructed and two e been remodeled and enlarged. In tion fifty-five acres of land was ght and a number of buildings cted for the establishment of podcrest Camp, the fresh air vaca- n resort southwest of Dallas.

ol. Wood has had established in- trial hotels for men in Dallas, Fort rth, San Antonio, Beaumont and ckenridge, Texas, and New Or- ns, La.; a young woman's boarding e in Dallas, and industrial stores Dallas, Fort Worth and New Or- ns.

He is particularly proud of the ord of the divisional Woman's me and Maternity Hospital at San onio. Records show that eighty rcent of the girls and women sent that home are permanently re- imed. Col. Wood declares that f respect, hope and faith are re- ored and positions or permanent mes are found for most of them, d the mother invariably keeps her be, he asserts.

The dedication of Woodcrest Camp, e Salvation Army free vacation re- rt for poor mothers and children Dallas County was the consumma- n of a dream of seven years by l. Wood.

The substantial character of the any citadels and institutions now ned by the Salvation Army is held Col. Wood to be a guarantee of the rmanency of the organization's rk.

Col. Wood joined the Salvation my in Toronto, Canada. He served ur years in that country and then was transferred across the border, since which time he has served in various capacities and commands all over the country. Among the centers where he has filled leading and executive positions are New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Honolulu, El Paso, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and the Southwestern Division. While in San Francisco he edited the Pacific Coast "War Cry," the official Salvation Army publication, and managed the publishing department in addition to his other duties. Col. Wood is particularly interested in Young People's work, and has served as Young People's Secretary. At another time, on the Pacific Coast, Col. Wood was superintendent of a large Men's Industrial Home. It was while he was in charge of the work in the Hawaiian Islands that Col. Wood, in response to a great and crying need opened the first Woman's Home and Maternity Hospital in those islands, from which has sprung the large and important homes for women and children now being conducted there by the Salvation Army.

In addition to his administrative and executive duties Col. Wood takes an active interest in civic affairs, and is considered a powerful and eloquent orator. He is in constant demand as a public speaker and his utterances on current social and moral problems are received with widespread interest. Col. Wood is a Rotarian and was a leader in the Dallas Rotary Club's successful "Back-to-school" movement which attracted nation-wide attention.

Grand Com. Officer Inspects Coeur de Lion Commandery

About fifty members of Coeur de Lion Commandery No. 52, Knights Templar, and several visitors, assembled at the Masonic hall last night for the annual inspection and visit, which was made by Sir Wm. G. Bell of Austin, Grand Generalisimo of the Grand Commandery of Texas.

The Order of the Temple was conferred on one Knight of Malta, and the Commandery was afterwards inspected.

Sir Bell made a good talk to the members present, urging that the younger members learn the work and relieve some of the older ones who are now doing it all. It was a good talk in which the speaker called attention to the work that is being done by Masons for humanity by building and maintaining hospitals and homes, and he incidentally mentioned the girls dormitory on the University campus, built by Masons for the accommodation of daughters of Master Masons attending the University. It was a profitable meeting and those who failed to attend missed a treat.

The Commandery meets at 6:30 tonight for degree work. Be there and help.
